CONSERVATIVES ARE IN CONTROL

Bonus Resolution Passed by American Legion Convention Does Not Condemn Administration

OTHERS TO BE INTRODUCED

Advocate Increase in Navy Personnel and Universal Service Law for War Emergency

(By United Press)

New Orleans, Oct. 18.—The American Legion convention today instructed its national officers to continue the fight for adjusted compensation bill until it was enacted into law.

The convention adopted unanimously and without debate a report of its resolution and legislative committee recommending this policy. No criticism of President Harding or the administration for killing the original bonus bill was made. The New York delegation seconded the resolution.

Other resolutions to be introduced at the convention today which will: Advocate a universal service law enabling the president to draft all the nation's resources without further legislation in event of emergency.

Some of the resolutions will be offered today, others later.

Passage of all the resolution was expected.

The resolution dealing with the bonus does not condemn the president and the administration for their defeat of the bonus bill at the last session of congress. A minority contended for denunciation of Harding and his advisers but was blocked by friends of the administration.

The fight may be carried to the floor but the legislative committee which drew the resolution is said to have won over national officers. The resolutions committee at a session extending into the night approved the legislative committee's work. So the threatened break with the administration on the eve of the election seems to have passed.

The influence of the conservative group, it was believed may likewise succeed in modifying the proposed condemnation of Brig. General Sawyer and criticism of the veterans bureau.

The resolution on the bonus, the United Press is authoritatively informed, will read something like this in part:

"Whereas, immediately after the armistice was signed more than fifty bills for adjusted compensation were introduced in congress and whereas the American Legion at Minneapolis in 1919, at Cleveland in 1920 and at Kansas City in 1921, endorsed the justice of adjusted compensation

BROKER ROBBED OF $300,000 IN GEMS

Four Bandits Hold Up Max Moser In Chicago And Get Away With Valuable Unset Diamonds

IN MICHIGAN BOULEVARD

Robbers Car Speeds Up Alongside One In Which Broker Was Riding While Scores Pass

(By United Press)

Chicago, Oct. 18.—Four bandits at midnight held up and robbed Max Moser, jewelry broker and salesman of New York, of $300,000 worth of unset diamonds.

Moser had just left the Congress hotel with Charles J. Morris, a friend who had volunteered to drive him to the railroad station, when a black automobile containing the four robbers swept alongside.

Scores of machines, carrying the theatre crowds home sped along Michigan boulevard as three of the robbers boarded the Morris automobile and drove it north with the stream of traffic. They turned off the boulevard on a street carrying little traffic and searched Morris and Moser, obtaining the wallets from the salesman.

Just as the bandits sped away, police from the Chicago avenue station, attracted by the screams of the two victims, arrived. They have found no further trace of the bandits.

The Moser robbery brings the total obtained in robbery of jewelry salesmen in Chicago this year to nearly $2,000,000.

Moser, in telling police of the hold-up, said that one of the bandits remarked as he jabbed a revolver in his ribs: "We have followed you here from St. Louis."

"They were about 250 unset diamonds," Moser said. They ranged from one carat to six carats, of great individual value.

The salesman lives at 562 west 190th street, New York City, and represented the following firms: Whitelaw Brothers, Nassau street; Jacob Schoen, Maiden Lane, and Samuel Lenkowsky, Maiden Lane.

Moser was planning to catch a train to Cincinnati when held up.

PLANT OPERATES ON LONE ENGINE

New One Installed About Year Ago Is Carrying Whole Load Pending Repairs On Two Others

REBUILT ONE NOT WORKING

Supt. A. T. Mahin Reports Condition To City Council—Willow Street Improvement Postponed

The city council held their regular session Tuesday night, and only business of a minor character came before them, and a brief meeting was held.

Since Willow street has been declared open from the Pennsylvania railroad, north of Tenth street, the council men decided to wait until spring before establishing cement curb and gutters, and repairing the street.

In the spring, it is planned to gravel the street, and notify the railroad to build a crossing, so that traffic will be possible. On account of cold weather approaching it was deemed unwise to begin any construction work at this time.

Supt. A. T. Mahin of the water and light plant announced that one of the engines, recently rebuilt by a firm in Hamilton, broke down last week, and that the firm has been notified several times to make good the default which exists. The company promised to have a man on the job today.

The plant is normally equipped with three steam engines, one of them having been installed about a year ago. Several weeks ago one of the older engines went out of commission, and now that the rebuilt engine is broken, it leaves the plant operating only on the new engine.

A serious emergency would exist here if something would happen to the lone engine now in operation, as it is necessary to keep it in continuous service excepting for a short time in the early morning hours, when it is shut down to be inspected and oiled.

A complaint has reached the council of teamsters driving log wagons through the city park, over the bridge just west of the coliseum, and the police will be instructed to arrest any one of the drivers who are caught driving through the park.

The matter of reforestation of the park also was brought up, and the councilmen will probably reach some decision soon in the matter of transplanting saplings along the west side, and in places now without trees. Some of the older trees that are dangerous, also will be removed.

The fire committee also announced that work has commenced on installing the steam heating plant in the city building, and is progressing as rapidly as material is received.

FIVE INDICTMENTS AND ONE IGNORAMUS

Grand Jury Makes Partial Report This Morning And Adjourns Until Next Monday

NO ARRESTS HAVE BEEN MADE

Five indictments and one ignoramus were included in the partial report made this morning at eleven o'clock by the grand jury, when they recessed until next Monday morning, to continue their investigations along certain lines.

The bench warrants will be ordered by the court as soon as the indictments are recorded in the clerk's office, and after the warrants are issued, they will be turned over to the sheriff for execution. This was expected to be made late today or Thursday.

The ignoramus returned by the grand jury was in the case against Florence Downey and Frank Whitton, charged with unlawful possession of liquor. The grand jurors did not find sufficient evidence to warrant prosecution of the case, and the two prisoners were immediately discharged by the court, following their report.

COUNTY TOUR IS SET FOR TUESDAY

Republican Gasoline Cavalcade Will Swing Through County, With Stops At All Principal Towns

BARNARD AND BUSH TO SPEAK

Henry C. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, to Speak at Court House Here Friday Night

The itinerary for the republican county tour, which will be held next Tuesday and which is a feature of every local campaign, was announced today.

The speakers on the tour will be George Barnard of Indianapolis, formerly of Newcastle, and Edgar D. Bush of Salem, lieutenant governor of Indiana.

The tour will start here in the morning, going to Milroy where the first meeting will be held, and will end in Rushville with a big meeting at the court house at night.

Two other events of importance are on the political calendar to precede the county tour.

Samuel M. Ralston, former governor of Indiana and democratic candidate for United States senator, will address a meeting at the Graham Annex school auditorium, Thursday afternoon.

The other event is the address by Henry C. Wallace, member of President Harding's cabinet, at the court house Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Mr. Wallace, who is secretary of agriculture and is acquainted with the farmers' problems, is the most prominent man of the republican party to be assigned to Rush county thus far in the campaign, and he is expected to attract a considerable hearing. He will make only four speeches in Indiana.

Two bands will accompany the automobile parties in their swing around the county. Committees were being appointed today to have charge of arranging for the automobiles to go on the tour.

They will leave Rushville at 8:30 o'clock and all go to Milroy for a general meeting at 9 o'clock. There the gasoline cavalcade will divide, half of the machines going up the western side of the community and half up the eastern side.

Stops will be made on the eastern schedule as follows:

PREDICTS NEW ERA OF FARM PROSPERITY

President's Statement Read in Speech by Secretary Wallace at Washington C. H., Ohio

MUCH HAS BEEN DONE

Washington, Oct. 18.—Predicting a "new era of activity and prosperity" for the United States, President Harding today promised the nation's farmers that they would be among the first in that new era to get "the substantial recognition which they must have."

The president's promises coupled with a statement that the Harding administration has already done much for the farmers in helping restore normal balance between prices and cost of production, was read to a farmer's gathering at Washington Court House, Ohio, this afternoon by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace.

Harding said prices for farm productions are still too low. It appears, he said, that the farmer is not being adequately compensated. The Washington administration has recognized this condition and has done everything in its power to restore normal balance between prices and cost of production. "A great deal has been accomplished and I am glad to say that the trend is strong toward better conditions for the farmers," he said.

The president predicted that the American farmer never would unite on a program of decreased production such as has been threatened recently by some farmer leaders.

PEDESTAL LIGHT IS BROKEN

Automobile Hits One at Corner of Main and First Streets

A pedestal light post situated on the northwest corner of Main and First streets was struck shortly after noon today by an automobile, and completely demolished. The machine was a light Ford truck, and the driver's name was not ascertained, nor was the number of the machine. Those who saw the accident stated that the man remained there for 15 minutes, but no one with authority appeared, and he left.

The cost to repair such a post is $123, and only yesterday a post at Third and Main streets was replaced following a similar accident a few weeks ago.

SUBSTITUTED TWO DOLLS FOR TWINS

Strange Story Of Ruse Used By Mrs. Hazel M'Nally Of Hammon Related At Hearing

THINK THEY SAW BABIES

Mrs. Floyd M'Nally, Step-Daughter-in-law, and Nurse Witnesses in Unusual Murder Case

Hammond, Ind., Oct. 18.—The strange story of how Mrs. Hazel M'Nally substituted dolls for twin babies of whom she is alleged to have been the mother was told in Judge Cleveland's court here today, at her preliminary hearing on a charge of murdering the two children.

Mrs. Floyd M'Nally, a step-daughter-in-law, of the accused woman was the first witness called. She said that her father married Hazel in April 1921. "She told me frequently that she was to be a mother, the witness said, and declared she did not like children. She always talked about how much trouble they were. There was no doubt early in December, 1921, but what she was soon to give birth to a baby."

"The first week in December she made a trip to Chicago to do some Christmas shopping. She was very much interested in looking at life sized dolls." Mrs. M'Nally then related how she heard the babies were born on December 8 and called at the house. She saw two bundles but the "mother" would not allow her to uncover their faces, the witness stated.

"Early in February," the witness continued, "I went down town with Hazel. I carried one bundle which I believed to be a live baby and she carried the other. On several occasions later I went out with her and I carried one bundle which I knew to be a doll. Only on the first trip do I believe the baby I carried was alive."

The opening of the hearing was marked by several sharp clashes between the attorneys.

Mrs. Mary Griffith, nurse and neighbor of the M'Nallys, testified she attended Mrs. M'Nally for nine days following the alleged birth of the twins. Mrs. M'Nally was in bed with two figures wrapped up in bundles, Mrs. Griffith said.

"She told me one was a boy and the other a girl. The curtains were

TO SPEAK AT GRAHAM ANNEX

S. M. Ralston to Talk at School Building Instead of Coliseum

Samuel M. Ralston, former governor of Indiana and democratic candidate for United States senator, will speak at the Graham Annex school auditorium instead of the coliseum in the city park, it was announced this afternoon. The change was made on account of the condition of the weather, the local political managers fearing that the day would be too chilly to attempt to hold a meeting in the coliseum.

Former Governor Ralston will arrive about noon tomorrow and will be entertained by John D. Megee and Douglas Morris during his stay here.

REFERENCES TO 'ANOTHER WOMAN'

Made In Love Letters Written By Mrs. Eleanor Mills To The Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall

SATISFIED WITH "CRUMBS"

Passionate Notes Found In Pockets Of Minister After Murder—Made Public By Prosecutor

(By United Press)

New Brunswick, N. J. Oct. 18.—Pitying references to "another woman" who had to content herself with "the crumbs" of the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall's affection are contained in Mrs. Eleanor Mills' love letters to the rector, made public today by Prosecutor Beekman.

The passionate notes were found in the pockets of the minister after discovered scattered around the his murder and some of them were ground at the scene of the tragedy.

They are replete with such phrases as:

"I am tired today—want to lie with you and rest for hours"

"Oh, you sweet adorable babykins of mine."

"Because you and I hunger for the same thing is the reason for our longing to be together"

"Poor Minnie, she is easily contented with the crumbs, isn't she, dear?"

"Poor Minnie" is not Mrs. Hall.

The letter follows:

"Dear boy: Wasn't I happy to find a sweet note, for I didn't expect that you would risk leaving one for me yesterday. Such delicious elairs! And the book is more interesting than you thought it would be. After I read it, we will talk about it."

"My darling, how well you seem today. I must have caught cold but I don't know when, and I am tired today—want to lie with you and rest for hours."

"And honey, you put the dear pictures in my hymn book. Oh you sweet adorable babykins of mine. Minnie used my hymnal for the organ and I wonder if she saw them although I don't care one bit. She provokes me so at times and tonight if her flowers are still here, I'll put them in the kitchen. Not that I am jealous of Minnie, my darling, it isn't anything to be jealous of. But I hate her to do for you what I thought of first. She couldn't swear I put the flowers on your desk—she surmises it was I. Oh, well, poor Minnie. She is easily contented with crumbs, isn't she dear?"

"How are you tonight, darling?"

ENTERTAINERS PLAY BEFORE SMALL CROWD

Poor Attendance At First Legion Lyceum Course Concert Due To Lateness Of Announcement

FOUR OTHER NUMBERS COMING

The Southern Musical company, the first number on the American Legion winter lyceum course, played before a small audience at the Graham Annex auditorium Tuesday evening. The concert was regarded as good, in spite of the fact that the entertainers worked without the stimulus of an appreciative crowd.

The musical numbers, both vocal and instrumental, were especially entertaining, but the monologues were not up to the standard Rushville audiences are accustomed to.

The poor attendance was attributed to the fact that the concert was not announced until Tuesday evening, a few hours before time for it to take place. The guarantors' tickets were not distributed until Tuesday afternoon and in many instances persons who had season tickets were unable to attend on account of other arrangements.

There are four other numbers on the course and the publicity committee of the Legion post stated that today, hereafter the concerts would be announced in advance so that guarantors could make arrangements to attend.

LOCAL MAN HAS A BIG CABBAGE CROP

Otis Crawford Writes Purdue Specialist Appreciative Letter For Sending Good Seeds

RESISTED USUAL DISEASES

Bumper Crop in State This Year is Due to Selected Seed Varieties Secured by State

Hundreds of Indiana cabbage growers and back yard gardeners have a good crop of cabbage this year for the first time in several seasons because of the work of the botanical extension staff of Purdue University. Dr. C. T. Gregory assisted them in locating sources of seed of varieties which resist cabbage yellows, the disease that has ruined their crop the last few years. Many appreciative letters have been received from these people who took advantage of this service in improving their cabbage crop.

Otis Crawford of Rushville writes: "I sent to several companies but could not get any seed except the Wisconsin All-Season's. I got two packages for .45 cents. I sold 1000 plants for $1.00 per hundred, gave each of my two son-in-laws 150 apiece, traded 150 to a friend for tomatoes and set out 400 on the 15th of June. I have sold $7.40 worth of cabbage at .24 cents per pound, used from them all fall, made 24 gallons of kraut and have 78 large heads and 12 small ones left. I never lost a plant and there was not a plant but made a head. There are 12 of them that are small but still growing fine and no doubt in a couple of weeks will make five pound heads." Of the others their weight was from 6 to 10 pounds, lots of them weighing 10 pounds. I do not think that record can be beaten and I like them so well I am going to raise a lot of them next year.

F. M. Riggs, Brownsville says, "I ordered some of the Wisconsin Succession and can truthfully say that we have as fine a lot of cabbage as we ever raised notwithstanding the dry weather. Not the least sign of yellows was to be found on any of it."

Matt Fuchtmann of Greensburg also writes, "We secured the Wisconsin Succession cabbage seed from one of our local dealers. It proved to be blight proof and was very satisfactory. Owing to the drought and heat our late planting did not mature as good as the earlier planting."

These statements show what disease resistant cabbage will do. There were some failures, but in the majority of cases where yellows resistant varieties were obtained the results have been very satisfactory. Conditions indicate that yellows will be bad next year and yellows resistant varieties will be needed.

LITTER WEIGHS 3,040 LBS.

Eleven Pigs Bred By Schwartz Bros. Heavies in Club

The heaviest litter of the Hoosier Ton Litter Club yet weighed, tipped the scales officially, October 9, at 3,040 pounds. The litter was bred and fed by Schwartz Brothers of Berne, Indiana, and according to the rules of the Ton Litter Club, it was weighed the day the pigs were six months old. A few litters are yet to be weighed but there is none that seem to appear to threaten the mark set by this litter.

The litter consisted of eleven pure bred Poland China pigs from registered hogs on both sides, thus proving the excellence of pure bred stock over scrabs, nondescripts or cross-breeds. Over 500 litters of all swine breeds and many kinds of cross-bred litters from all sections of Indiana were fed in the contest but this litter exceeded the next heaviest by over 400 pounds.

WHITE DIARRHOEA CAN BE STOPPED

May Be Controlled By Using For Hatching Purposes Only Eggs From Hens Free Of Disease

POULTRY MEET AT PURDUE

Dr. Doyle Gives Demonstration Of How Tests Is Made To Determine Whether Hens Had Diarrhoea

Bacillary white diarrhoea, perhaps the worst disease which Indiana farmers and commercial poultrymen have to combat, may be controlled by using for hatching purposes only eggs from hens that are free from disease, was the message to members of the Indiana State Poultry Association who attended the annual meeting of the association held Oct. 3, 4, and 5, at Purdue University at Lafayette. Dr. L. P. Doyle, of the veterinary staff, who has done a great deal of work with poultry, showed how the tests determined whether hens had this disease which is transmitted through the egg to the offspring. He gave a demonstration of how the test is made with a hen and the actual materials used in taking the blood sample.

"A chick infected with this disease soon can infect a whole flock of little ones and frequently the flock is lost," he said. "This can be overcome by weeding out, through this test, the germ carrying hens."

Another point of particular interest brought out at the meeting was the movement among hatcherymen of the state to establish certified hatcheries for baby chicks, that is hatcheries that turn out only chicks from disease free, high egg producing flocks. Resolution adopted on this topic call for a committee to prepare a bill for the legislature providing for inspection and certification, if passed, at the request of the owner of the hatchery. This will help do away with the baby chick frauds on Indiana buyers practiced the last few years.

Charles G. Pape, Ft. Wayne, was named president of the association to succeed U. R. Fishel, of Hope. The other officers are L. J. Denberger, Stewartsville, vice-president; L. L. Jones, Purdue, secretary-treasurer; Mr. Fishel, representative on experiment station advisory board and chairman of executive committee H. G. Leslie, Otterbein, and J. B. Carney, Morristown, executive committee.

WINTER EGGS

The rising price of eggs is causing poultry breeders thoughts and attention to turn to ways and means of getting pullets ready for winter laying. Income from the flock is now at the lowest point of the year due to the old hens reaching the end of their laying period and it being earlier than most pullets are starting.

Each year farmers are providing a good poultry house and keeping pullets housed during the winter months. All pullets should be housed sometime during the month of October and generally the earlier the better. Pullets will mature more rapidly when housed than when on range. Housed pullets are kept near the feed and will consume more grain and mash. After pullets are once housed they should be confined until settled weather comes in the spring, as alternate turning out and cooping up makes them discontented.

Heavy grain feeding for pullets is gaining favor among poultrymen each year. Some of our most successful demonstration farms kept grain in front of the pullets during most of the past winter. At least four pounds of grain to every pound of mash should be fed during the fall and winter months. This matter of heavy grain feeding is of real importance and should not be overlooked. For further information on feeding get from your county agent or by writing Purdue direct, Station Circular No. 101, "Feeding Laying Hens."

The use of green feed of some kind is of considerable importance in keeping birds in good condition during the period of confinement. Sprouted oats, silage, mangles, cabbage, or pumpkins give good results. When sprouted oats or silage are fed the amount should be what the flock will consume in a half hour, once a day. When using mangles, cabbage, or pumpkins the amount should be what will be consumed in half a day. When the pullets are first housed a dose of Epsom salts, one pound per

HIGHWAY COMMISSION WANTS TO SAVE TREES

In Many Instances Roads Have Curved Slightly to Spare a Particular Fine Tree

SAVE PRIZED LANDMARK

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 18—The policy of the state highway commission is to save trees along state roads whenever possible, and in many instances in order that a particularly fine tree be spared roads have curved slightly. This action is being taken relative to widening State Road No. 1 near Crothersville in Jackson county.

Just south of Crothersville an immense maple in front of a country home is too near the right-of-way, but in order to save the big tree which is highly prized as a landmark, the commission has permitted engineers to swing the right-of-way over a little. A large oak standing almost in the center of the road near the same town is to be removed, officials taking the position that it is a menace to traffic.

"It is the policy of the highway commission to save these old landmarks whenever possible, even to the extent of swinging the road around them if it can be done without endangering the safety of traffic," John D. Williams, director of the commission, says.

hundred hens, may be given in a gallon and a half of drinking water.

A box, some barrels, or a bin should be put in the poultry house in which grain can be stored. If no large self-feeder is used mash may be stored in the same way. This addition to the house will save a great amount of labor as grain and mash can be taken to the house just once a month.

One foot of mash hopper feeding space should be provided for each twelve to fifteen hens.

Poultry Lice and Mites Which Infest Flocks are Serious Factors in Poultry Raising

CONTROL IS EASY MATTER

Methods to Assist Farmers, in Booklet Just Issued

Among the factors which interfere seriously with profitable egg and meat production in Hoosier poultry flocks are the several kinds of lice and mites which commonly infest the birds. Farm flocks especially are likely to require attention since they are ordinarily given less care and have less modern housing than commercial flocks.

"The control of these lice and mites is in most cases a simple and easy matter," says C. R. Cleveland, of the Entomology Department, Purdue University, Agricultural Experiment Station. "No elaborate equipment or complicated measures are needed, and the general farmer, housewife, club member and poultryman alike can readily practice the simple measures required to secure success."

"The presence of mites and more particularly lice in a given flock at this time and later will cause the birds to begin laying later than they would, and will also result in a decrease in the profitable fall and winter egg production which every poultry raiser is so anxious to secure."

The poultry raiser should therefore lay plans looking toward the control of these profit-reducing enemies now, and may rest assured that any earnest effort expended in this direction will pay attractive dividends on the investment.

SCHOOL BUILDINGS
NEEDED IN INDIANA

Report of Public Instruction Board
Reveals Crowded Conditions Existing in Some Cities

INDIANAPOLIS IS CITED

Better Employment is Believed to be Reason For Parents Sending Children to School

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 18—A great shortage of school buildings throughout Indiana was revealed today in reports to the state board of public instruction.

Nearly every town and city in Indiana needs school buildings, some more than others, the reports showed.

Increase in high school enrollment varies from fifteen to twenty percent. Grade school enrollment has increased from two to twelve percent this year.

Only the towns which have been working on a building program for the past five or six years are able to take care of the enrollment increase, according to the reports.

One of these cities is Indianapolis which has lacked a substantial building program. High school enrollment this year as 8,333 as compared with 7,390 in 1921-1922. Grade school enrollment is also much greater.

Goshen is probably suffering more than any other city from a school building shortage. There is a twenty-five percent increase in high school enrollment. East Chicago showed an increase of fourteen percent, Mishawaka thirty-four percent and Anderson thirteen percent.

Better employment which permits the parents to send their children through grade and high schools and in many instances through college is given as one of the main reasons for the increase, it was said.

Every type of building from a highly modern portable school house to an old ramshackle dump is being used in Indianapolis to accommodate the overflow. A number of buildings are on the new school program.

STATE PHYSICIANS
AIDING IN CONTROL

Entire Profession Give Support to Effort of Tuberculosis Association
in Their Work

RESOLUTION LATELY PASSED

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 18—The physicians of Indiana are giving more support each year to efforts of the tuberculosis association toward the prevention of tuberculosis, according to Murray Auerback, secretary of the Indiana Tuberculosis association. This is true not only of individuals in the medical profession throughout the state, but of the profession as a body.

The latest instance of such support is to be found in the passage of strong resolution by the Indiana Medical association, in its annual meeting at Muncie. In these resolutions the medical association says:

"Whereas, the Indiana Tuberculosis association is carrying on a campaign for a more intelligent appreciation of the medical problem, which is evidenced in its program for the prevention and control of tuberculosis; its health activities among laymen; the progress made in bringing about the earlier diagnosis of tuberculosis, and increased facilities for the care of the tuberculous, be it.

"Resolved, that the Indiana Medical association endorse the work of the Indiana Tuberculosis association and urge the earnest support of the medical profession in furthering its endeavors."

A Rubber Ball and The Tariff

Life, liberty and the pursuit of a rubber ball is one of the inalienable rights of a child. If the tariff interfered with that, it would be an arraignment against protecting industries—but it doesn't. Those opposed to a protective tariff are claiming that the new rates will increase the cost of things. They always make claims before a tariff

The main objection to a lazy man is that he takes up so much room.

Nothing so fully unfits a man for doing an honest day's work as writing poetry.

You should be just as anxious to pay what you owe as to collect what others owe you.

Seeing the same people and doing the same things over and over is responsible for much immorality.

Some folks will call you a liar when you tell the truth, while others wait until the occasion warrants it.

becomes operative, but they never deal in facts regarding the tariff's of the past, to uphold their contentions.

If we must be content to discuss the possibilities of the future, let us examine the rubber ball, a household necessity. There is a duty on rubber balls.

This is not an ordinary rubber ball we are speaking of, but it is a "grand-or-ious" one, as any little girl or boy would say. It cost sixty-five cents, and that gets a first class ball. But how does it happen to cost so much? Is it due to the duty on balls?

This ball was made in Germany, where workers get wage on only one-tenth as much as American labor gets. It was made in Germany and sold there for 11 cents. Freight, etc., to American was one cent; tariff duty, three cents. Total cost landed in America, 15 cents. Suppose the importer got 50 percent profit for his trouble, that would make the ball sell in America for 23 cents, or, suppose he got 100 percent profit, then the ball would sell for 30 cents. But no, our importer sells the ball for 65 cents. That is 433 percent profit. Too big a profit, and all the time he is pretending to be greatly grieved about having to charge the "dear consumer" so much "on account of the tariff."

Fifteen cents cost, including the duty of 3 cents, 65 cents sale price 433 percent profit. Big sale price "on account of the tariff."

No Dire Consequences

Don't lose any sleep over the dire consequences that are predicted as a result of the president's enforcing of the prohibition law against foreign ships with liquor aboard entering our ports.

Ship owners on the other side of the Atlantic may boycott our ports for a short time in an effort to bluff us into letting down the booze bars for them and keeping them up against our own ships—a condition much to their liking and with juicy pickings.

But it will be only a question of time when they will be around begging for an opportunity to eat out of our hand again.

The American hand is too full to be long overlooked by the hungry and the greedy.

OHIO'S STADIUM TO BE DEDICATED

State University Will Open Million Dollar Project October 21 With Football Game

WILL SEAT 64,000 PEOPLE

Dozen Elevators Are Required To Convey Spectators To Top Seats 115 Feet in Air

By E. J. JONSON
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 18.—Ohio State University's million dollar athletic stadium will receive its baptism of football on Saturday, Oct. 21.

Dedication ceremonies for the massive horseshoe structure will be climaxed by the annual Ohio-Michigan gridiron classic. Sixty-four thousand football fans—the largest number ever gathered for a game at Ohio State—will be present to witness the game, the "Stadium Girl" and her court lead the dedication procession onto the field.

The athletic monument, rushed to completion in less than a year, is the largest field west of the Yale Bowl.

Standing in the heart of the University district on the banks of the Olentangy river, the Ohio Stadium resembles some great Roman amphitheatre. Two towers rising above the walls on either side of the main entrance and the graceful sweep of its horseshoe curve lends the structure monumental grandeur.

Unlike the Harvard Stadium, the Ohio field has two decks, the upper deck affording shelter to more than half the sections of the lower deck. Its seating capacity, the engineers claim can be "stretched" to 73,000 persons. It seats 66,000 comfortably.

The entire city of Columbus, hundreds of whose citizens contributed to the $1,500,000 fund to build the stadium were to join in the ceremonies attending its dedication.

Governors Davis, of Ohio, and Grosbeck, of Michigan are expected to watch the game from boxes elaborately draped in the colors of their respective state schools.

Old Ohio Field, scene of the University's football battles of the past its stands torn down will serve as parking place for the hundreds of automobiles bringing fans to the game.

The new structure, according to Ohio university expansion plans, is to form the hub of a ninety-two acre recreation tract. The stadium itself comprises, gymnasiums, showers, dressing rooms, oces, and physical culture lecture rooms. All these utilize the space below the tiers of bleacher seats.

A dozen elevators carry the fans to the top seats, 115 feet above the playing field.

American Women Are Careless

Women are too apt to overestimate their strength and overtax it. When feeling well they take unnecessary chances, which in the long run cause much pain and trouble. Wet feet, exposure to cold, lifting heavy burdens and overwork will often develop troubles which cause no end of suffering. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the unfailing remedy in such cases. Thousands of American women will testify to this fact who have regained health and strength by its use. If you are suffering it will pay you to give it a fair trial.

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)
New York, Oct. 18.—No team ever rose to the heights of perfection attained by the New York Giants in winning the world's series from the Yankees.

Constituted as they are today, the Giants perhaps are the greatest team ever assembled. They are at least as good as any team of former years and their class above all other major league teams today is far beyond dispute.

In the series they made the American League champions look almost like bushers and it must not be misunderstood that the Yankees are a good ball club. They had to have some class to win the American League pennant, because that is no inferior circuit.

Many of the tricks and traps conceived by McGraw, Jennings Robinson and Gleason when they were making famous the name of the old Baltimore Orioles were sprung to perfection on the Yankees.

Twice victories were turned in by the trick of having an infielder intercept a throw from the outfield and cut down a run at the plate.

In the fourth game Baneroff ran into short centerfield and took a throw, whipping the ball to the plate retiring Schang who tried for the plate.

In the last game Frisch ran into right field, took Young's short throw and tossed to the plate getting Scott who made the attempt to score when he thought the play was to be made at second base.

The outfield work of the Giants was spectacular and critics agreed that it surpassed the marks set by Hooper, Speaker and Lewis, who were on the books as the greatest of all world's series outfielders when they were starring with the Boston Red Sox.

They did not make as many spectacular catches simply because they didn't get the chances. The throwing of Musel, Cunningham and Young, their hitting and more especially their brain work was beautiful to watch.

Before the series it was predicted that on account of the supposed weakness of the Giant pitching staff, McGraw's only chance to win the championship rested in hitting and base running and it was the strength of the National League champions in those two lines that were mainly responsible for the victory.

The base running of the Giants and their batting in the pinches certainly would have won even if the pitchers had been less effective.

Reason for the surprising form shown by the Giant pitchers against the Yanks can be explained best perhaps in the words of a former league manager and a close friend of McGraw's.

"Any pitcher of more than ordinary ability who has control and who follow the instructions of McGraw can win ball games.

While no particular wreath of laurels was placed on his brow, "Irish" Musel, certainly was one of the big heroes of the series. He proved himself to be one of the most dangerous hitters in baseball when a hit was needed.

Many fine batting averages are made by hits with none on or with two down when the pitcher is careless, but a player who bats only .200 and gets his hits when there are runs on the bases is a better hitter.

With The Big Ten

Chicago

With the freshman squad drilling in Purdue shifts, the Maroons went through light signal drill in preparation for their game with the Boilermakers next Saturday. Captain Lewis donned a suit for the first time in two weeks but was unable to do any heavy work.

Northwestern

Injuries to the three star backfield men cast a gloom cloud over the Evanston campus. Coach Thistlewaite worked with new men in an effort to round out a well-oiled set of backs in case his cripples aren't ready for the game with Minnesota Saturday.

Illinois

Coach Bob Zuppke drove his men through the hardest scrimmage of the year following the stinging defeat by Butler college. "Poor generalship" was the cause of the defeat according to Zuppke.

Minnesota

With only one injury resulting in the game with Indiana, Bill Spaulding had a good-sized squad working on signals in preparation for the battle with Northwestern.

Indiana

Rain and mud failed to stop the Hoosier squad, which was driven through a stiff session of scrimmages in preparation for the Wisconsin game Saturday. Quarterback Wilkins was shifted to an end for an experiment, and worked well on the receiving end of Indiana's forward pass attack.

Purdue

Although it was practically assured that Captain Murphy will be unable to play in the game with the Maroons Saturday, Coach Phelan was intent on victory. He drove his charges through a hard scrimmage.

Wisconsin

The Badgers will be well fortified for their game with Indiana Saturday. Captain "Rollie" Williams, ace of Wisconsin's ground gainers, was back in the mole skins and will be ready for the first conference game.

Michigan

The Wolverines suffered no extreme injuries in the Vanderbilt game, and the entire squad was driven through a stiff work out in preparation for the first conference engagement Saturday when they meet Ohio State.

Ohio

Rain prevented extended drill, but Coach Wilce put his men through a strenuous skull session, instructing them in how to stop Michigan's highly touted aerial attack.

Iowa

The Hawkeyes took a day's rest in celebration of their victorious return from Yale. They donned their togs Tuesday in a scrimmage with the Freshmen.

Y. M. S. TEAM COMES SUNDAY

Fast Indianapolis Organization Will Meet Arlington A. C.

The Y. M. S. football team of Indianapolis will be the attraction at Arlington Sunday, instead of Greenfield, who cancelled the game Monday evening. They reported their team disbanded, but it is thought by the Arlington managers, that Greenfield hearing of the good showing that Arlington made at Gosport last Sunday, is the cause of the cancelling of the game.

The Y. M. S. team is coming with good recommendations and has in its line-up, Ed Rafferty, quarterback, former Ferndale player; Spencer of the Belmont team; Pattinson of last year's Fairfax club and other Indianapolis players. Al Seecy is coach of the team and no doubt has a fast club that will be hard to beat. After Arlington's showing in Gosport last Sunday, they will also be hard to stop.

Dear Public to Get View of What It's Paying For

New York, Oct. 18.—Secret training for the gentry of the cauliflower ear has been put under the ban by Tex Rickard, the promoters.

The dear public which pours the stream of gold into the Madison Square Garden where Tex stages his fights, from now on is going to have an idea of what they are paying to see.

The public is to be admitted to watch the contending pugilists train before each bout. Then no one can go away squawking that money was paid under false pretense.

NO YOUNG PLAYERS AT CHEAP PRICES

Present System Employed by Major Leagues to Secure Talent From Minors Has Failed

MAJORS WELL STOCKED NOW

19 Minors Were Requisitioned But Only a Few Are Expected to Make Good in Big Leagues

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
New York, Oct. 18.—Failure of the present system of getting young ball players, at cut rate prices from the minors was clearly shown in the 1922 draft.

Only 19 minor league players were requisitioned by the major league club owners and few of them are expected to make the grade in fast company.

Because most of the clubs are fairly stocked with youngsters and for the reason that the International and Pacific coast leagues and the American and Western Associations are allowed to sell their stars under the existing conditions, there was little the majors desired in the draw.

The Cleveland Indians, the St. Louis Cardinals, the Boston Red Sox, the Phillies, and the Chicago White Sox didn't even go to the trouble of asking for new material from the little fellows. Players awarded in the draft announced by Commissioner Landis were:

Pittsburgh, Schwab, Ludington, Michigan; Shepherd, Aberdeen and Jahn, Sioux Falls, Cincinnati, Harris, Charlotte, N. C.

New York Yankees, Johnson, Aberdeen; Lavalle, Worcester, Mass.

New York Giants—Anderson, Beaumont, Texas.

Boston Braves, Padgett, Memphis, Smith New Orleans; Felix, Shreveport, Bagwell, Independence, Iowa, Sehm, Waterbury.

Brooklyn, Stewart, Birmingham; Hargraves, Pittsfield, Mass.

Washington Hargrave, New Haven; Potter, Knoxville, Beach, Cairo, Illinois.

Chicago Cubs, Barrett, Little Rock and Stauffer, Bridgeport.

The New York Yankees announced the recall of Manley Llewellyn, Luke Urban, Gormer Wilson, Glen Killinger, Hinkley Haines, Wight Kingdon, Tucker, Neul and Roettger. The American League champions also announced the purchase of Bengough, Buffalo catcher; Aeton, Virginia League outfielder, and Langford, West Texas League outfielder.

Under the present system which awards a player wanted by two or more clubs to the club lowest in the standing, the Boston Braves profited most, getting five players. The Philadelphia Nationals were expected to make a big haul but not a bid was made.

The American League turned a nose up at the draft as only two clubs in the circuit, the Yanks and the Washington Senators asked for the privilege of making a draw.

LESS THAN 200 PEOPLE HAVE GIVEN $400,000

No General Campaign Has Been Waged Yet For the James Whitcomb Riley Hospital

MANY CASH CONTRIBUTIONS

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 18.—Less than 200 persons of this city have already contributed a total of more than $400,000 to the James Whitcomb Riley Hospital for Children, being erected here as a memorial to the famed Hoosier poet and for the care and treatment of sick and crippled children from every Indiana county. No general campaign has yet been waged. The erection of the hospital will involve an expenditure of $2,000,000.

Although contributions to the building fund may be made over a five-year payment plan, a large part of the $400,000 raised in this city represents cash contributions, the Marion County executive committee has announced.

In addition to this sum, more than fifty clubs and organizations in the city and county are or will raise funds for the hospital to perpetuate the memory of their respective organizations within the completed in-situation. Indianapolis school teachers alone, it is believed, will raise between $25,000 and $35,000 for the hospital as a memorial to the teachers of the city, the total sum to be raised over the five-year period. The total sum of $400,000 raised among less than 200 persons here includes contributions of $25,000 and $50,000.

Larline Council, No. 296, degree of Pocahontas, will hold their regular stated meeting Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

A dance will be given Friday evening in the Modern Woodmen Hall from nine to one o'clock. The Miami Lucky Seven of Indianapolis will furnish the music for the dance program. The committee is William Pugh, Eugene Kelley and Haskell Higgins. The patronesses will be Mrs. Rich Reed, Mrs. Carl F. Beher and Mrs. Walter Hubbard.

Arrangements have been made for the P. and B. orchestra of Chicago, to play for the dance to be given at the Elks dance hall, Halowe'en night. This orchestra is considered one of the best in this section of the country and the committee was fortunate in obtaining these musicians to furnish the music for the dance program on this night.

Mrs. James Gregg entertained several friends for dinner Tuesday evening in honor of her daughter, Mrs. Paul Colvin of Battle Creek, Michigan. Covers were laid for Mrs. Thomas Jackson, Mrs. George Zike, Mrs. Charles Pettis and daughter, Mrs. Clarence Price and the honored guest. A delightful social hour was enjoyed following the repast, with music and dancing.

Miss Thelma V. Bunyard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Millard Bunyard, and Jesse C. Vandeventer, both of the Falmouth vicinity, were quietly married Monday afternoon at three o'clock at the parsonage of the Central Christian church in Connersville, by the Rev. J. G. Smith. Mrs. Emery Vandeventer, mother of the bridegroom, witnessed the ceremony. The bridal couple will reside on a farm near this city.

The Loyal Women's class of the First Presbyterian church met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Ruby Petry in North Sexton, for a business meeting. The following officers were elected: Mrs. Charles Hinkle, president; Mrs. Sam Finney, vice president; Mrs. Harry Hall, secretary; Miss Flora Gutaphel, assistant secretary; Miss Grace Spencer, treasurer. After the business meeting a social hour was enjoyed, during which light refreshments were served by the hostess.

Several from this county enjoyed a pitch-in dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Southwick of near Lewisville Sunday. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Gordon and daughter Luadah, Mrs. Martha Gordon, Clyde Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Nixon and daughters Ellen and Edna, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Hall and children, Walter and Irene, all of the Plum Creek neighborhood; Mr. and Mrs. Josh Mallory of near Raleigh, Mr. and Mrs. John Mallory of Dublin, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Kemmer of near Bentonville and Clyde Bair of Lewisville.

Miss Henrietta Coleman entertained the members of the Shakespear club Tuesday evening at her home in East Sixth street. Mrs. John Kiplinger and Miss Coleman furnished the program for the evening, both telling of their travels abroad. Mrs. Kiplinger has been living in Weisbaden, Germany, for the past few years, and her experiences she encountered there, were very interesting. Miss Coleman spent the summer travelling through the different countries of Europe, and her talk was also very entertaining. Dainty refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

REFERENCES TO "ANOTHER WOMAN"

You seem rested and happy. We didn't have a minute alone but it will appear so at times.
"Dearest, I am not dreaming today. As I look out of the window I form no thought in my mind, just a drifting on, straying at nothing in particular and I always do that when I am tired. The note I left yesterday was crumpled but I had to hide it in my small orange purse as I met him. And please excuse hastiness in writing. How glad I am school resumes session tomorrow and I can be alone to write. I could never belong to a club or go where there is incessant laughter and conversation. I need my dream time, my hours alone, and other people irritate and disturb me.
"There isn't much of interest in the papers today. One line in an article says, 'all life is a hunger' and how true that is. A hunger for what will satisfy, but what a variety of tastes in people.
"Because you and I hunger for the same thing is the reason for our longing to be together as much as possible.
"My love is deep, calm quiet today. I am in the mood to listen to music.
"Yesterday I was talking to Mr. Burns. Couldn't pass and not listen as he was ready for conversation. He was saying someone next to Hopkins was married yesterday and they were queer people. Told Mrs. Hopkins they lived a different world than some people. Mrs. Burns is too ignorant to understand that, and my I wish you heard what disrespectful language Mrs. Burns said. But I let her rave, I hate to talk to Mrs. Burns and never do if I can avoid it. But at times I must be polite even if it is to listen to her ignorance.
"And Honey mine—isn't it true that I live in a different world today I am not wide awake. (I am not sad—but quiet. Yesterday I was rolling—Oh I love these moods; they mean intense life fire.
"Oh darling if I had an income of my own, I would be very selfish, I guess. I'd build a waiting love nest where I could dream unmolested and not care if I never saw people to talk to. Books and music, pictures, Oh, what treasures I would have. The butterfly, the wild squirrels and what I could see in my dreams. People would mean nothing. I'd rather see the bugs and ants as they crawl along. Don't you love to watch an ant as it creeps along Honey there isn't a house large enough for me. My dreams are as big as the earth. I need the great out doors to live, to breathe in. Nature, and God, created it, is what I feel a part of and I am a part of it—It calls me just as I yearn for the true things, and darling sweetheart—that is why I long for our love to be truest, ideal—as pure as we can make it—for then its truest ideal—as pure as we can make it—for then its truest to nature and things that God created.
"But this love nest, you know, is dreadfully lonesome with just me there. Then did he say we needed jewels. Did He say we needed anything except the mate after that too we would find other things that he created for our comfort and pleasure. What a joy to read the Bible, how it tells of God creating all these wonders for us."

A charge of unlawfully operating an automobile has been filed in Justice Stech's court against Edwin G. Johnston, an attorney of Connersville. ## BEAUTIFUL AND DUMB— THAT'S THE IDEAL WOMAN

By LINCOLN QUARBERG (U. P. Staff Correspondent)
Chicago, Oct. 18—Beautiful and dumb—that ideal woman!
Intelligence is unnecessary in a woman. It defeats her purpose in life.

Anna Held's eyes did more for the happiness of the race than Ida Tarbell's epigrams.

Leo Dietrichstein, hero of many stage paramours and who in his characterizations gives the impression of having gazed on wine when red, red, women when pink, and song when silver, thus broke forth today with his version of what's what in a beautiful woman.

"Woman's place in the scheme of affairs is to create and preserve illusions," the stage star declared. "An so for me, I prefer the illusion of having gazed on wine when soulful eyes might inspire, to the material kick I might get out of the activities of an Alice Paul or Emmaline Pankhurst, for example."

Looking over the field of entries for a woman who would measure up to his standard of an ideal, Dietrichstein shied away from Hollywood.

"They say our screen stars are beautiful and dumb, he said. "I could love them if they were, but the trouble is they are not only dumb, but they are not beautiful."

The Don Juan of the stage declared there are no beautiful women in the movies.

"Faces on the screen all look alike," he said, "as if they were all members of a single type, which began to bore me fifteen years ago."

"But the beauties of the legitimate stage—ah, they are different. I can love em, dumb as they may be. They don't need brains."

"A woman with brains is as distressing a spectacle as a camel with four humps."

UNIONIST PARTY TO DECIDE FATE

Will Meet Thursday to Decide Whether to Support Lloyd George or Another Candidate

350 PARLIAMENT MEMBERS

Meeting Will Bring Climax to Campaign in Which Factors Are Against the Noted Premier

(By United Press)
London, Oct. 18—Lloyd George's political fate is to be sealed Thursday when members of the Unionist party meet to decide whether to continue to support the prime minister's coalition government.

The bitter warfare in the press against the Georgia policies, which was precipitated by the Near Eastern conference, continued unabated today as plans went forward for the meeting of the 350 unionist members of parliament which has been called by Ansten Chamberlain, government leader in the house of commons and chief of the unionist party.

It was freely predicted that Chamberlain, avowed champion of the premier, must exert all his energy and skill to induce other members of his party, especially the younger ones to support Lloyd George.

The Thursday meeting, which is to be held at the Carlton club, will bring to a climax the campaign of opposition to the prime minister.

The "die-hards"—the opponents of Lloyd George in the Unionist party—were mustering all their strength today for the show down.

It was believed in well informed circles that Lloyd George will resign soon, no matter what the outcome of the meeting.

In case the majority of the unionists, who together with the liberals make up the coalition which came into being at the time of the war, vote to stick with the fiery welshman, it is thought likely that he will ask King George to dissolve parliament and appeal to the country for support in a general election.

In the event conservatives decide to abandon the ministry of Lloyd George, it would necessarily be taken as a challenge of Chamberlain's leadership of the party and he and all other adherents, including the premier would resign.

This would also precipitate a general election.

Lloyd George has called a conference of the leaders of the liberal party of which he is still a member, for today. He will seek to determine just how he stands with the party of which he is the acknowledged head.

Petroleum and Independence

SAYS the Chicago Tribune, "The automobile has increased the ability of people to take care of themselves—America's streets and roads are filled with motor cars because—the American in his own car feels the independence of going where he pleases and when he pleases."

The effective use of automotive power depends upon an adequate supply and efficient distribution of gasoline and other petroleum products. The users of automobiles and motor trucks of the Middle West would find themselves seriously handicapped were it not for the practically universal distribution of gasoline and oils, maintained by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana). This distribution system is continually growing, expanding, and penetrating new corners of the 10 states served by the Company.

The number of automobiles in the United States increased 13% during the first six months of 1922 over 1921. The increase in the states served by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) during the past two years was over 36%. These figures give a fair idea of the rate of increase of distribution facilities required of this Company.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) expands in proportion to the increasing needs of the people it serves. It maintains 3973 bulk stations, so located as to assure rapid distribution of gasoline and oils. The number of these stations is promptly increased as the need for them arises. It maintains 1605 service stations, situated with a view to the convenience of the motoring public. It maintains throughout the rural districts 7167 tank wagons, which serve the farmer at regular intervals, enabling him to keep his truck, tractor, or motor car ready for instant use.

This efficient service of petroleum products is maintained at a high degree of effectiveness under all conditions and is the dominant factor in assuring the independence of the motorist of the Middle West.

Seven Day Search Results in Detention of W. L. Wheeler for Abducting Phylis Prosch

INDIANAPOLIS GIRL RETURNED

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 18.—A seven day search for the kidnapper of eight-year-old Phylis Prosch in Indianapolis, has resulted in the arrest of W. L. Wheeler, whom three persons identified as the man having been seen with the little girl here.

Wheeler who said he is a printer from Chicago, was arrested in a garage. He was almost arrested last Wednesday when he attempted to sell the automobile in which he is alleged to have taken the girl to Lafayette.

Phylis disappeared October 10 while going to school and returned on a train from Lafayette the next day. She said the man who took her, bought a ticket back to Indianapolis and put her on the train.

AUTO BAND IS UNEARTHED

Thieving Gang Operating in Chicago Believed Under Arrest

Chicago, Oct. 18.—Automobiles valued at more than $500,000 were stolen by a gang of auto thieves from Chicago during the last few months according to alleged confessions in the hands of police.

The men who confessed, police said, are Fred H. Jones, and an 18 year old youth known as "Midgely" and who is believed to be Harry Lefkowitz. Lefkowitz was arrested on a farm near Columbus, Wis. where he was guarding several stolen machines.

According to the confessions the band was organized by Joseph Guatassi who recently sailed for Italy with $200,000 in gold, said to be his share of the loot.

Lefkowitz was held on sixteen charges of automobile larceny.

"Rheumatism? Me? No, indeed, it's all gone, every bit of it! It's sunshine and joy for me now for the first time in years. I feel a wonderful glow again in the free motion I used to have when my days were younger. I look at my hands and think of the twists and swellings they used to have. I bend way over to the floor. I haven't been able to do that in many years. I can thank S. S. S. for it all! To me it was a rising sun of joy and liberty. Brothers and sisters in misery, do not close your eyes and think that health, free motion and strength are gone from you forever! It is not so. It is here and now for all of you. S. S. S. is waiting to help you. There is a reason why S. S. S. will help you. When you increase the number of your red-blood cells, the entire system undergoes a tremendous change. Everything depends on blood-strength. Blood which is minus sufficient red-cells leads to a long list of troubles. Rheumatism is one of them. S. S. S. is the great blood-cleaner, blood-builder, system strengthener, nerve invigorator. It cures skin eruptions, pimples, black-heads, acne, boils, eczema. It builds up run down, tired men and women, beautiful complexions, makes the flesh firmer. Start S. S. S. today. It is sold at all drug stores in two sizes. The body of the now elderly man, who claimed to have healed the mother of President McKinley and thousands of others, rests today in an undertaking parlor, while police seek an equally mysterious "Miss Black" who fled after his death.

The widow of the "miracle-man" is being sought in Kansas City where she is now believed to live.

THE J. B. HOWARD COMBUSTION DEVICE

With The Damper Back Of The Firepot Has Made The Hot Blast Air Tight

FLORENCE Famous

The Damper Back of the Firepot

IS WHY THE HOT BLAST AIR TIGHT FLORENCE SHOULD BE USED IN EVERY HOME THAT IS HEATED WITH A STOVE

THE DAMPER BACK OF THE FIREPOT has revolutionized combustion. It makes its own gas and burns it and makes its own coke and burns it, in the burning of the cheapest soft coal or slack.

THE DAMPER BACK OF THE FIREPOT is the means of burning the cheapest soft coal or slack with the same regularity and cleanliness as the burning of gas, and will heat three times the space at one-third the cost of any other heating stove burning coal or wood.

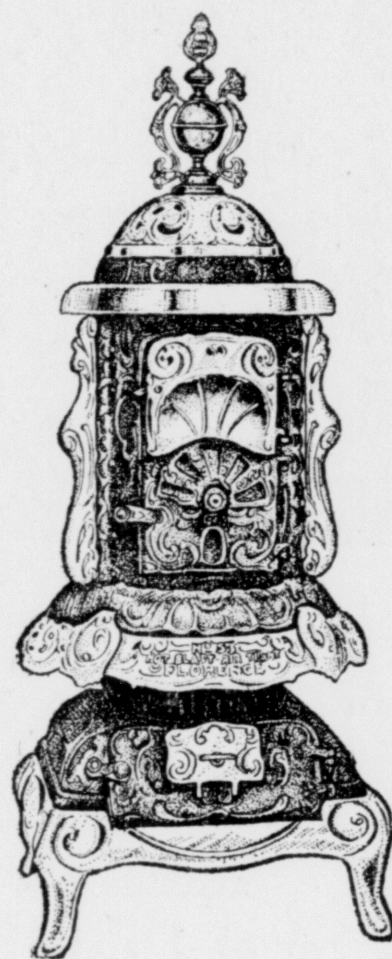

THE DAMPER BACK OF THE FIREPOT regulates the heat in burning coal or wood the same as a key in burning gas.

THE DAMPER BACK OF THE FIREPOT can be set to whatever degree of heat is required, maintaining a steady heat day and night, and only burns coal or wood according to the amount of heat required.

THE DAMPER BACK OF THE FIREPOT eliminates the soot dust, dirt and clinkers that must be put up with in using all other heating stoves.

THE DAMPER BACK OF THE FIREPOT enables you to have a steady heat day and night, heating five or six rooms when the weather is twenty degrees below zero.

THE DAMPER BACK OF THE FIREPOT regulates a slow combustion and will hold fire from 24 hours to 4 days and 4 nights with one filling.

A Floor Heater

The Florence heats the floor 5 or 6 feet from the stove

The Trouble With All Heating Stoves Depending Upon a Front Damper

One hour the stove is too hot and the next hour it is cold.

When the weather is zero or 20 degrees below zero all doors must be closed forcing the family to live in the room where the stove is.

Every little while coal must be put in the stove because it has no control. Three times the amount of ash is made, which means more dirt in the house and more work.

In all heating stoves depending upon the front damper to regulate the heat there is danger of puffing and explosion when the stove is replenished with fresh fuel.

When the stove gets red hot the metal expands. When it gets cold the metal contracts, which warps and burns out the stove in a few years, besides the constant expense of repairs.

THE FLORENCE STOVE WILL BE JUST AS GOOD TWENTY-FIVE YEARS FROM NOW AS IT IS TODAY THE HOT BLAST AIR TIGHT

FLORENCE has the only JOINTLESS LEG BOTTOM AND BASE with full radiation that has ever been made which makes it a good fire-keeper 25 years from now. The first Florence heating stove sold in 1899 is working, wherever it is.

THE DAMPER BACK OF THE FIREPOT prevents puffing in the burning of soft coal or slack because it burns the gases that cause the explosions.

Do not be deceived by unscrupulous manufacturers or dealers when they say that a stove without a damper back of the firepot will do what the Florence does.

GO IN POULTRY BUSINESS

Goshen, Ind., Oct. 18—The high price at which eggs have sold in recent years is influencing scores of northern Indiana farmers to engage in the chicken business on an extensive scale. Eggs on the retail market this summer went below 25 cents a dozen and in the last two weeks have been selling at 40 to 48 cents per dozen.

INVENTOR IS AS HAPPY AS A BOY

"I am now sixty-four years old, but since taking Tanlac I feel as active and spry as I did fifteen or twenty years ago. I seem to have a new lease on life and have answered many questions lately as to what put me on my feet again. My weight has also increased twenty pounds, and I feel that it would be ungrateful of me not to tell others what this medicine has done in my case."

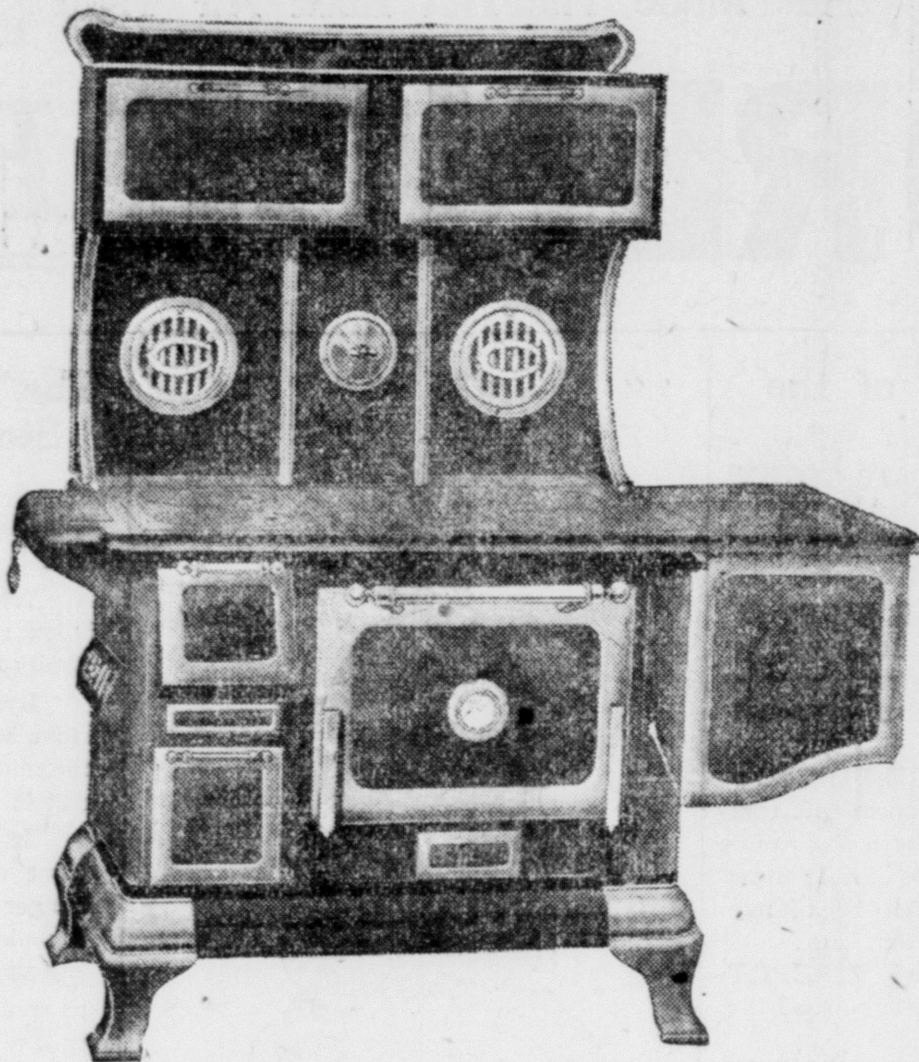

The above statement was made, a few days ago, by Daniel L. Appleberry, 18 State St., Hammond, Ind. Mr. Appleberry has been an inventor for forty years. His successful and practical inventions include railway devices; also a Meat Slicer and Sawing Machine, all of which, he says, are patented and in use throughout the United States and Europe.

"Before I took Tanlac," said he, "I was just about down and out. My stomach was all out of fix, my appetite gone and my nerves all unstrung. I suffered from constipation, headaches and dizzy spells, and my burden of misery was made all the more heavy by backache and rheumatic pains in my arms. Well, my troubles are all in the past now and Tanlac has built me up until I feel healthy and happy like a boy."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists. —Advertisement

SEE WHY COPPER-CLAD RANGES DO NOT RUST OUT

A section of a range body is heated and there on the iron body is the sweat from the asbestos. Right before your eyes you see just exactly what happens every time you build a fire in your range. You see why the sheet of copper is used and what it does and how it does it. You take nobody's word—you see—you know—absolutely, positively.

SAVE A THOUSAND SHOVELS OF COAL EVERY YEAR

You know how the many walls and air spaces of a thermos bottle hold the heat. You know that a house with a single wall is not as warm as the house with two walls and an air space. You know that storm windows, two windows with a space between, are much warmer than a single window even if it is as thick as the two windows.

The Copper-Clad Range has four walls and an air space. See what it means in fuel saving. See the water sizzle and boil away on the 3-ply sample while it stands on the Copper-Clad sample. See how the heat is wasted by radiation on the three-wall construction and how it is saved by the four-wall thermos construction.

Suppose that you save but one shovel of coal at each meal; in a year's time you would have over a thousand shovels of coal. Pay? Of course, it will pay; and you owe it to yourself to see these two great demonstrations and know for your own self what range lasts longest—is most economical—cooks best—and looks best.

COPPER-CLAD means that Pure Sheet Copper is placed BETWEEN the sweaty asbestos and range body. To place it elsewhere would be like climbing on top of a roof to get out of the wet.

"Over The Border"—Princess

Fans, meet Fred Weller, who contributes much to your enjoyment of snow scenes in motion pictures.

Fred has always been interested in and loves dogs. He bought from Admiral Peary the pack of Alaskan dogs with which the Admiral made his successful dash for the pole. It is the descendants of that pack which you can see dragging the sled across the snow in "Over The Border," the Penrhyn Stanlaws production featuring Betty Compson and Tom Moore, which will open at the Princess theatre for a two days' today.

You can see Fred, too if you look sharp. He is the Royal Northwest Mounted policeman who guides the dog team.

Fred is an authority on archeology and ethnology, having studied the subject while in the Government service at Taos, N. M., where he helped the Taos Indians ridding the reservation of troublesome squatters so successfully that they made him a member of the tribe.

Then he accepted a position as technical adviser on Indian and animal lore for picture directors. When he is working on a picture, his wife early always plays a part in it. They worked on "The Round-Up," "Behold My Wife," and "The Call of the North."

"The Crusader"—At Mystic

In "The Crusader," a William Fox photoplay which will be shown at the Mystic Theatre today, William Russell is starred in the role of a young prospector. Many of the scenes were taken in the famed Cobalt mining district.

The story is by Alan Sullivan. It was directed by Howard M. Mitchell, who is one of the leading directors of the Fox forces. The popular Fox star is supported by Helen Ferguson, Fritz Brunette, George Webb, Carl Gantvoort, Gertrude Claire, Fred Kohler and Ralph Clouinger.

The young miner lives on a farm, but his heart is in the city. His sweetheart tells him she is leaving for the big town. Noting his disappointment, his mother advises him to try his luck in the city, realizing that there is no chance for him on the farm. He goes to the Cobalt mining district and becomes successful. An interesting love story is woven in the picture.

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, declares a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation begins at once to soothe irritated skin and head eruptions such as rash, pimples and ring worm.

It seldom fails to remove the torment and disfigurement, and you do not have to wait for relief from embarrassment. Improvement quickly shows. Sufferers from skin trouble should obtain a small jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream. —Advertisement

Synth Bend, Ind.—"I know of no better blood purifier and tonic than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is safe and reliable to be given to even tiny children. I believe my daughter would not be alive to-day had it not been for the 'Golden Medical Discovery' which I gave to her (a few drops at a time) when she was so frail it seemed she could scarcely live from one day to another. I have three children that have taken the 'Discovery' and they are all healthy and strong young people."—Mrs. Marquess, 1212 S. Carroll St.

Official Charges Outsiders Interfere With Hazing Scandal Inquiry

Annapolis, Md., Oct. 18.—Powerful outside influence has been brought to bear to hush up and forestall work of navy officials probing the latest hazing scandal at the naval academy, a high official of the academy charged today.

"If these outsiders would let us alone we would make a lasting example of this hazing case, and there would be no hazing in any form at the academy," this official told the United Press in an interview.

"Even so," he continued, "we are going to put an absolute end to the abominable hazing here, though we probably will be forced to take some drastic action in the case to do it."

TRIPLETS 76 YEARS OLD

Richmond, Ind., Oct. 18.—A set of triplets 76 years old visited their twin brother and sister here and in Spring Valley, O., Monday. They are said to be the oldest triplets in the United States.

They were Marie Jane Richardson of Danville, Ill., Sara Jane Wilson of Newcastle, Ind., and Mary Jane Williams of Lebanon, O. First they visited Henry Williams here and then they went over to Spring Valley to visit Williams' twin sister, Mrs. Josephine Begford.

The triplets have red hair. Their weight always was within four ounces of each other until they were 16 years old. Their mother used to distinguish them by letting them wear red, white and blue beads.

STATE'S LOCATION IS FORTUNATE ONE

Because Indiana Is At Center Of Nation, Capital Is Logically The Great Convention City

IS CENTER OF POPULATION

Indianapolis Is Connected With All Parts Of State By Splendid Highway System

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 18—Indiana's geographic location is fortunate declares a publication being issued by the division of geology of the state conservation department, according to advices received from Dr. Logan, state geologist, by Richard Lieber, department director.

Because our state is at the center of the nation in several important respects, and Indianapolis with its splendid rail and electric line facilities is connected with all parts of the state by a splendid state highway system, the capital is logically the great convention city which it is coming to be, Dr. Logan declares.

According to population Indiana is located at the center of the United States. The north-south line bisecting the eastern half of the United States is far more important in most respects than the western half because it receives more rain fall, has more valuable resources and is otherwise favored, Dr. Logan says.

Most of the people of the United States live in the eastern half of the country, it is pointed out; also the crop production is vastly greater than that of the western half, likewise nearly all of the country's manufacturing is done in the eastern half, and most of it in the northeast corner.

With reference to the difference in population, production and industry on either side of the meridian, Dr. Logan says:

"It is not surprising that the center of population of the United States should be near the center of the eastern half. It has been in Indiana since 1880. Since 1900 it has been a short distance south of Indianapolis;

Big Demonstration of the Princess Pat and the Relief

We want every woman to know about these shoes

The Relief is a new comfort shoe just originated by Walk-Over. To look at it, you'd never know it was anything but a smart, very stylish, and unusually trim-fitting shoe. It fits over an enlarged joint so that the enlargement is practically concealed. It fits the ankle snugly, has a combination wide tread and narrow heel fitting. You've never seen a shoe like it. A sensation—because so many women have wanted it.

The Princess Pat is for women who have a foot with a straight inside line—the natural shape of the normal foot. It is noted for its pretty lines and becomingness and for the comfortable poise it gives the feet. The comfort of it for every-day wear or walking, the amount of wear in it, has made it the biggest selling model in the world.

Your foot is shaped to either one of these shoes, and you owe it to yourself to have at least one pair of either to save your feet and enjoy real foot comfort all the time. See the good style of them in our windows now.

near Columbus in 1900, in Bloomington in 1910 and exactly 10 miles west of Bloomington in 1920. The 'median point' of the population of the United States is a short distance northeast of Indianapolis in Randolph county. The term 'center of population' as used by the census bureau is the point to which all the people of the U. S. could come with the least amount of travel, if they could travel in a straight line.

"The median point is the point in respect to which as many people live east as west, and as many live north as south. The center of urban population of the U. S. is a few miles east of Indiana, north east of Indianapolis. The center of the rural population is in Illinois only a few miles northwest of Evansville, (Ind.). The center of foreign-born population is near the northeast corner of Indiana, just across the line in Ohio."

A complete discussion of this subject is contained in a description of the geographical conditions of Indiana written by Dr. S. S. Visser, for the Indiana Handbook geology in press.

DEFENDS MORAL STANDARD

Valparaiso Mayor Replies to Charge
Booze Running is Rampant

Valparaiso, Ind., Oct. 17—A vigorous defense of Valparaiso's moral standard was made today by Mayor E. W. Agar in the face of criticisms from Indianapolis that booze running here is rampant.

Valparaiso, the mayor said is "about the cleanest city in the state of Indiana". He greatly resented the statements of state and federal officials that the death of Zach Williams while intoxicated could be attributed to whiskey traffic.

Even as the mayor issued the statement, Samuel McNaught, representing Attorney General U. S. Lesh, was here investigating the community. Agar said he had repeatedly asked federal and state aid in cleaning up the city and had been refused.
